19th Annual Quality Awards

19th
Annual Metal Decorating
Excellence in Quality
Awards Competition

The International Metal Decorators Association is pleased to announce the Call for Entries for the 19th Annual “Excellence in Quality” decorating competition. The competition recognizes those companies who provide dynamic and high quality metal decorated pieces from all methods of the decorating industry. A wide range of products were represented from around the world in the first eighteen competitions. Previously judged entries were all decorated with the highest skill and design integrity. This year’s competition promises to be challenging once again and we are sure that more companies will join in the quest to be recognized by their peers. To be recognized by one’s peers is the highest honor one can receive. This competition is conducted by a critical audience, metal decorators and is extremely special. The IMDA is providing an opportunity to challenge the depths of our workmanship and craft.

The following are guidelines for entering the “Excellence in Quality” competition.

Qualifications

Entries must have been decorated between May, 2014 and April, 2015. Two finished samples of the decorated work must be submitted to the IMDA by the deadline of April 30, 2015. Samples must be from commercial production runs and not prototypes. The samples will not be returned. Entries will be displayed at the Seminar and will be photographed for promotional purposes. The decorator must have performed the decorating work entirely, but did not have to perform the manufacturing of the piece. Decorated pieces are judged in 7 categories and each design can only be entered in one category. The Technical Achievement Award will be presented for innovation in decorating and manufacturing. All entries will be considered for this award.

Judging

All submissions will be judged by an impartial committee made up of graphic arts professionals. Judges will evaluate the quality of printing, the degree of difficulty, the appearance of coating finishes, registration, and the technical expertise required for each piece. Judging will take place at the annual International Metal Decorators Association Annual Conference which will be held May 20-21, 2015 at the Hilton Indian Lakes. The judges will follow a predetermined guideline of quality criteria to determine the outcome of the contest. Once the judging has been completed, the judges will announce the winners of each category at the Awards Luncheon. Winning entries will be displayed at the Seminar for all to see. The International Metal Decorators Association will send press releases to various industry publications notifying the readership of the awards. We wish you the best of skill in the competition.

Fees – THERE ARE NO FEES TO ENTER THIS COMPETITION.

Excellence in Quality Craft Can Entry Guidelines

The IMDA, in partnership with Craftcans.com, is excited to continue hosting the Excellence in Quality category for Craft Cans.

Following are the guidelines for entering the Craft Cans category:

- Cans submitted must be metal decorated cans for brewers meeting the definition of a craft brewer by the Brewers Association. (Annual production of 6 million barrels of beer or less.)
- Cans must be decorated with a direct metal decorating process and can not be labeled cans.
- Brewers, can manufacturers and designers may enter the Craft Can competition.
- The award recognition will be given to the Craft Brewer with honors to the designer and can manufacturer.
- The judges, at their sole discretion, determine if an entry is qualified for each category of the competition and may remove or reassign the entry.
- All remaining guidelines for the 19th Annual *Excellence in Quality competition published in the registration form must be followed.
